"CONTINUOUS LEARNING"

MY BLIND SERVANT Isaiah 42:18-20

All students of the Scriptures know that God formed All students of the Scriptures know that God formed of the descendants of the twelve sons of Jacob the nation known as Israel, and of them He states, "You only have I known (or recognized) of all the families of the earth" (Amos 3:2). "But thou, Israel, art my servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend" (Isaiah 41:8). "I am the Lord, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your King" (Isa. 43:15). With that nation He made a covenant, saying, "Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the earth is mine . . And all the people answered together, and said, All that the Lord hath spoken we will do" (Ex. 19:5, 8).

In the course of time the nation became divided into two nations—Judah, which comprised the two tribes of Judah and Benjamin; and Israel, or Ephraim, which com-prised the other ten tribes, and God declared the division was of Him (1st Kings 11:31-33; 12:24).

Israel, the ten tribes, became faithless and began s Israel, the ten tribes, became latiniess and began worshipping the false gods of the nations roundabout. As a consequence she was cast off from Divine favor (divorced) and taken captive into Assyria, and has never returned to the land of Palestine. In due course these 10 tribes became scattered, as tribes, among the nations, was to the world of losing their identity and being known tribes became scattered, as tribes, among the nations, even to the point of losing their identity and being known as Gentiles, and are often referred to as the "10 lost tribes." But God has not lost sight of them and states, "Is Ephraim my dear son? is he a pleasant child? for since I spake against him. I do earnestly remember him still: therefore my bowels are troubled for him: I will surely have mercy upon him, saith the Lord" (Jer. 31:20). Judah, too, was faithless to her covenant and was sent captive into Babylon for seventy years, but in God's providence returned to 'Palestine and has not ceased to acknowledge Him as her God, the Creator of the heavens and of the earth. She was never divorced by God and has never lost her identity, her people being known everywhere as "Jews."

Despite the fact that in her blindness, her apostasy, Exsel lost her identity, the time must come according to prophecy when she would awaken to it, recognize who she is and receive God's mercy. If we are to identify her we must do so by the light of prophecy. In Genesis, chapter 48, it is stated that Jacob placed his name Israel mon theysons of Joseph and declared that the older son. unon the sons of Joseph and declared that the older son. Manasseh, would "become a people, and he also shall be great." and the younger son. Enhraim, would become "a multitude of nations." If prophecy is to be understood it must be interpreted in the light of the physical facts, and thus it becomes "a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path" (Psa. 119:105). Prophecy, the Apostle Peter declares, is of no private interpretation (2 Peter 1:20). God gives the interpretation publicly by the events foretold coming to pass. The physical facts, past and present, make plain the true interpretation for all to see. Can it be said that history has fulfilled and is fulfilling the above prophecies? There can be no gainsaying the fact that we find in the British Empire "a multitude of nations." and in the United States of America. "a great people." Thus we have one identification mark—there are others—by which we are able to identify in these nations the bulk of the people of Israel, the 10 lost tribes. lost tribes.

Intese hatches the bulk of the people of Israel, the lost tribes.

These two mighty empires have been developed by Israel while she has been in apostasy and they have become her idols and in them she has gloried. But God's favor has been with her in that following Judah's rejection of the Messiah at His first advent the salvation of God through Jesus Christ has been sent to the 10 tribes scattered among the nations (Acts 13:46; 28:25-28). The call in this present age has not been a national one but a call to individuals to follow Christ. Nevertheless, to the extent that individuals in Israel have been governed by the Word of God, and the governments of the nations formed by her have been influenced thereby, these nations have prospered and have had a much higher conception of justice and righteousness than other nations. To the degree evil men and seducers have gained control these Israelitish nations have been robbed of these blessings. Today we see this evil influence almost in complete control nationally and the people so wholly absorbed in materialism that apart from lip service God is not in all their thoughts. As a consequence we are now witnessing the political, moral and economic disintegration of the British Empire as a whole, and of the United States of America, being brought about by the "waster that destroys," the "man of sin," the "mystery of iniquity," or, in current terminology, the "hidden, or secret, government." whose purpose is to force upon mankind a new tyranny. The time is imminent, however, when Israel will awaken to her identity and God will again deal with her as a nation, purged and purified as by fire. "Seek me and you shall live ... seek the Eternal and live lest He set Joseph's house ablaze with fire that none can quench in Israel." (Amos 5:46 Moffatt). That fire has surely begun. We are living in the transition period between the Times of the Gentiles, which Scripturally ended in 1914, and the establishment of Christ's-Kingdom on this earth. God's time clock has struck and nothing can prolong the lease of world power He gave nothing can prolong the lease of world power He is to the Gentiles for a specific time only (Dan. 2:37, 38,

As Samson of old, when blind, saw that he could destroy the enemies of his people by bringing their house down upon them, so the people of the British and American empires when they realize they have been betrayed by their leaders—financial, political and ecclesiastical—into surrendering their sovereignty, will, while still blind to their identity, lay hold of the two main pillars of the hidden government—international finance and organized religion—and bring the whole structure down like a mill-stone cast into the sea (Revelation, chapters 17 and 18), completely destroying the present world order. As these two chapters of Revelation declare, God will put it into two chapters of Revelation declare, God will put it into the hearts of the 10 horns—"my people"—to give unto the "beast" (Europe), their power (sovereignty), for one hour. This we now see taking form. He then instructs His people to throw off the old woman that has been and is riding, manipulating and controlling the rulers, and to "eat her flesh, and burn her with fire"—confiscate her assets and utterly destroy her Babylonian system of international finance and organized religion. Soon thereafter the visible phase of God's Kingdom in power and great glory will be established on this earth, by which and through which He will bring about the blessing of all the families of the earth.

The people of the British and Aportion expresses and two chapters of Revelation declare. God will put it into all the families of the earth.

The people of the British and American empires, and other nations of the 10 tribes, awakening to their identity, will rise again, not as they are at present constituted but as Israel, to the joy, praise and honor of God and their own rich blessing. Then with repentant Judah (Jer. 3:18) they will as the whole house of Israel return representatively to the Land of Promise. "Ephraim shall not envy Judah, and Judah shall not vex Ephraim" (Isa. 11:13) but "they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land (Palestine) that I have given for an inheritance unto your fathers" (Jer. 3:18). "For the law shall go forth of Zion (the centre of the Kingdom), and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem" (Micah 4:24) until "the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea" (Hab. 2:14), resulting in ALL men, the living and the dead, being reconciled to God. "Every knee should bow... and that every longue should confess that Jesus Christ-is Lord, to the glory of God the Father" (Phil. 2:9-11).

And so God's promise to Israel (the twelve tribes, of Father" (Phil. 2:9-11).

And so God's promise to Israel (the twelve tribes, of which the Anglo-Saxon-Celtic people are the larger part) shall be fulfilled: "And I will cause the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel to return, and will build them, as at the first. And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me, and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned, and whereby they have transgressed against me. And it shall be to me a name of joy, a praise and as honor before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them: and they shall fear and tremble for all the goodness and for all the prosperity that I procure unto it" (Jer. 33:79), and say, "Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of His ways, and we will walk in his paths" (Micah 4:24).

Israel! "Arise, shine; for thy light is come." Awaken Israel: Arise, since; for thy light is come. Award to your identity, put on your garments of glory and beauty, be clothed with the word of God! And "the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee. And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising" (Isa. 60:1-3).

SOVIET MOON FLIGHT SET FOR '65-TITOV

BELGRADE (Reuters)—Maj. Gherman Titov, the Soviet cosmonaut, was quoted Tuesday night as saying the Soviet Union planned a flight to the moon in 1965.

"But do not forget, that is the orientation year" — he added in an interview in Wednesday's edition of Borba, the official government newspaper.

Asked if this meant the flight could be earlier or later, Titov replied:

"If some problem arises and a solution is not found immediately, the time is extended."

Titov arrived here Tuesday on a nine-day visit.

"I do not know at all how important it is who will be the first. The most important thing is how the flights will be made and how the task will be accomplished."

"If the Americans consider that they will be the first we have nothing against it."

MISTER DIEFENBAKER, IN his demands on Britain in connection with the latter's possible membership in the European Common Market, is being touted by some London papers as the key man among the visiting Commonwealth prime ministers.

That is an important role for a man who gained only a third of Canadian votes in the last election and who, because of his minority position in Parliament, could be out of office within a month. For whom does he speak?

Since he has not consulted Par-liament after the election he cannot speak for that body, which repre-sents the Canadian people. And since his power depends on a relative handful of Social Credit or NDP votes, he can scarcely carry much weight as the unchallenged leader of his nation. This the British public may not understand. Canada is the senior dominion and they accord its prime minister the prestige of his office. But Mr. Diefenbaker's voice

In this connection it is interesting to note that Mr. Menzies, the prime minister of Australia, who ably supports Mr. Diefenbaker in his stand, holds office by virtue of one lone vote in the parliament. He, too, speaks from a shaky rostrum.

seems to gain strength by its distance from Ottawa.

What Mr. Diefenbaker is saying today differs from his earlier opposi-tion to British entry into ECM. At the time of the Accra meeting, for instance, his ministers were tremely bitter about Britain's joining at all. But the Conservative government soon found that Canada did not follow John on this point; the people could see, if the governcould not, that Britain was considering this unprecedented and desperate step in order to meet changing conditions in a changing

The act of joining ECM was drastic, but what was the alternative? The alternative could be slow deterioration, loss of prestige, de-cline to the status of an island off Europe instead of fulfillment of its destiny as a power within Europe.

Mr. Diefenbaker has soft-pedalled his opposition. He now concentrates on criticism of the bar-gain which Britain is trying to make with the six European countries already forming ECM. That bargain, not yet completed, does not provide sufficient protection for the Commonwealth countries, says Mr. Diefenbaker. The economy of these countries has been built up on established trade arrangements Britain and each other. Under these arrangements the Commonwealth lands enjoy tariff preferences over other countries. New Zealand, for instance, sends almost 90 per cent of its agricultural produce to Britain.

The Commonwealth countries naturally wish to keep this export market and the preferences which make it possible. If Britain joins the European Common Market the whole situation will be changed. How much it will be changed has been the subject of the recent Brussels talks and of those to be held in the near future.

It is obvious that Britain will to get the best bargain it can try to get the best bargain it can to protect Commonwealth interests. But it is up against some tough negotiators, particularly those from study and learn. You can study and learn. Teachers can the can be France, where President de Gaulle is not enthusiastic about British do. mbership at all.

Regardless of the actual terms are two other people. of membership, it is argued that if Our skins are dark. Britain joins, its future prosperity we live in the city. and that of the ECM will in the long run make up for loss of the Commonwealth's current trade opportunities; that a Britain sinking into diminished prosperity and importance outside the ECM will not be able to keep up the present volume of trade anyway.

The 'whole problem cannot be presented in black and white. It is rather a question of the lesser of two evils. And back of it all are the unassailable facts of the changing pattern of world trade, of United States efforts to encourage and co-operate closely with a unified European economic entity, of the rise of a European political bloc which Britain probably cannot afford to stay out of, and of the world strug-gle of the two great ideologies. Obviously this is a situation in which only statesmanship can hope to provide the correct answer; it is no place for personal ambition, party politics or short-term national interests. At so crucial a moment in Commonwealth affairs it is un-fortunate that some of the partici-pants cannot speak with the full voice of their people, and may not be able to rise to the world states-

Once more is revealed to the public the tangled story of a young man—one of two brothers who early espoused communism—turning to espionage, perhaps willingly, perhaps through coercion, in an arrangement with the Soviet secret police to permit his family to emigrate to the United States.

His plea of innocence carried no conviction to the courts which tried him and heard his appeals. His flight to Israel for sanctuary, which Israel denied, and his subsequent self-inflicted wounds to delay deportation from Britain further dramatized his case.

This apparently means that in schools where most of the children are Negro, the new primers will deal with Negro children who live in a familiar environment. Instead of trips to the seashore the moppets take trips to the supermarket, instead of a house in the woods

Hmmm. That could be quite a book Any city street can yield a rich vocabulary, and some of the back streets of Detroit could be quite outstanding in their contribution to any school primer. Plagiarists may be expected to make the most of anything the primers turn up. Lawrence and Miller may yet have to put out revised editions to keep But apart from the more vivid and literary implications of the announcement, it is astonishing to learn not that the young of Detroit's downtown areas employ 28 most used words, but that they know 28 words at all.

Okay Jane. Thinking it over, this, with a slightly different choice of words, proceeds at about the same speed as the regular Dick and Jane stories anyway.

But, seeing his own words in the primers, many a child will be moved to dislike them merely because of their context. Children may adopt good English in a normal reaction against the language in their schoolbooks. This may be the deep design of the textbook writers. If so, I wish them luck.

But they're going to need a whole new 28 words by next year.

Typical Complacency

Mr. Bennett's remarks, as reported in the Times of Sept. 5, about the Revelstoke by election, were uttered with typical Bennett complacency, and with perhaps a little whistling in the dark. The fact that the Social Credit candidate polled only comparatively fewer votes than the successful candidate, Mrs. George Hobbs, is no proof at all, one feels, that there is any undue upsurge in government popularity or public confidence in it but merely that certain factors unique to Social Credit were exploited to the limit fact that the government candi-

By inference, in fact, many people who do not keep abreast of af-fairs, and unfortunately for the prov-ince there are many such in B.C., have been led to believe that the Social Credit government merits all the credit. What can be assumed without any doubt is that whatever NDP candidate is successful at the polls, whether successful in a federal or provincial election, and who succeeds by few or many votes, does so because the section of the public who vote for them have no fear in placing their confidence in the person and the party as such and not be-cause of any past spectacular achieve-

MacArthur was blinded by the foregoing line of reasoning.

There was no plot. The hard facts on the other side of the ledger were simply ignored, because the kind of thing they indicated was thought to be incredible. The result was Pearl Harbor.

The reappearance of Pearl Harborstyle of reasoning in the Berlin crisis is revealed by the often parroted slogans: "The Soviets will never risk a big war for Berlin!" and "Khrushchev slogans: The Soviets will never list a big war for Berlin!" and "Khrushchev will never give Ulbricht the power to start a big war!" and " The Russians will never use the East German army; their morale is too poor!"

All these slogans may well be 100 per cent true. One must pray that they are. But their truth depends on the Soviets' thinking about Berlin as we do; and therefore it is prudent to take a hard look at the hard facts accumulat-ing on the other side of the ledger.

These facts largely concern the intensive military preparations of the Soviets and East Germans, and particularly the East Germans.

The kind of action that is seemingly being prepared has already been suggested in a previous report. In brief, the Soviets seem to be preparing to sign their famous peace treaty, and then to leave the East Germans to defend those "sovereign rights" Khrushchev is always saying the treaty will confer

If this is correct, the Western will to defend Berlin will be initially tested by East Germans, just as American resolution was tested by North Koreans in Korea and by Communist Chinese at Quemoy.

Even such a limited test will be breathlessly dangerous, but it will still leave the Kremlin free to go to the UN, or to go to war in earnest, or to do many other things, depending on the test's results, How, then, do the abovelisted slogans apply?

Taking them in reverse order, the orale of the East German army is quite probably fragile enough to be broken by one bad beating. But the wisest obser-vers here believe the Soviets can count on the East German divisions to put up a good show in the first round, until they have been beaten at least once. By then, it must be noted, the West-ern will to defend Berlin will be rather fully tested.

Come the weekend, you pile your grub and accessories into the car, push the dog into the seat, climb in and head for the cabin, shack

We like it that way, but we do forego a lot of visits to other interesting places and we miss a lot of entertaining events. It takes a conscious effort of will to stop the car m turning left up the road beyond the Malahat Chalet.

Pat and I made the effort last weekend. We'd been invited to the official opening of the Tally-Ho Travel Lodge at Nanaimo. And for the first time in more than 25 years, we spent the night in that city.

Nanaimo, it had always seemed to me, was a place you passed on your way to or from somewhere else. You could make it in less than two hours easy driving, and apart from an occasional visit to friends there, no particular reason occurred to us to a op over.

The Tally Ho party turned out to be an excellent reason. Erbane people, I guess, wouldn't talk about the amenities extended to them as guests-the smart accommodation, the relaxing and attractive new pool, the top-notch cuisine, the elegant lounge and masterfully concocted refreshments. They would talk about the engaging new friends they made at the function and the obvious pride taken by civic Nanaimo in this new and comfortable inn.

I couldn't remember what had been on the site of the Tally Ho before it was built in the amazingly short time of 79 days. Then someone reminded me the space between the Nanaimo River mouth and the George Pear-son bridge had been the town dump. You understand the satisfaction the people take in the new hostel when you realize how such

I hadn't talked to the man who is mayor there now since Pete gave me an ice cream as we stood in the hot evening outside the new Nanaimo Arena on its opening night so long ago.

Pete doesn't seem to have changed much. He likes to recall the early athletic activity in the town, the sports meets to which Archie McKinnon used to take his prize-winning track teams from the Victoria Y-and he thinks Nanaimo might be ripe for a Y of its own now, if somebody would start the ball rolling. He'd like to see a public swim pool there for the kids now and figures the town that was built on coal could put over such a project with a little help.

I'd never met any of the Barsby family before Saturday night. The name was familiar enough from up Island correspondence in mayoralty circles, before Vic Harrison, I believe. Now I know the son, Ted, whose public service runs, between fish and game affairs and school board activities

And I also know, having gone cruising on big craft out of Canoe Cove and Nanaimo Harbor on succeeding days, that we have no monopoly on attractive islands at the south

It's time, I realize, that people like me should stop considering Nanaimo in terms of a place to pass through, perhaps to stop for lunch. We should spend a little longer-with our neighbors. The Tally-Ho co-owners, operators and personnel encourage the idea. There doesn't appear to be the rivalry that stems from wanting a bigger share of the same things—commercial importance and tourist dollars—that I had felt existed between Victoria and Nanaimo. We're closer than I had believed.

Particularly close, it seems, on the matter of transport links with the Mainland. Nanaimo has a problem with which we're pretty familiar and which the Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen ferry has helped to solve. With them, the issue's still acute—so acute that in the Tally-Ho's formal opening speeches the name of a certain transportation company was avoided like swearing. His theatre duties are lumped with a varied assortment of other tasks, such as appointing poets laureate and looking after the royal swans on the Thames.

Dating from the Theatres Act of 1843, theatre censorship has been a little more liberal in recent years.

But many theatre people are irked by the strictures of the lord chamberlain because (a) his judgments are final (you can't appeal over his head) and (b) there is no such censorship of publishing, movies,

It does seem a little ridiculous for only one branch of entertainment to be government-censored, as borne out by the American "The Premise," which opened here recently.

Five skits on President Kennedy were blue-pencilled by the lord chamberlain, under the rule about no critical references to heads of friendly foreign states.

But the BBC promptly put the theatre-banned skits on television. In that way they reached a far greater audience than they ever would have reached on the stage. Which makes a bit of a farce of the lord amberlain's powers.
But it would take an act of Parliament to free the theatre of its censorship, so the hope is that Lord Cobbold will continue the more liberal attitude—more so, if possible.

And on the subject of show business . . .

Alec Guinness has something very much in common with Peter Sellers. Each is always being announced as the star of dozens of forthcoming Hollywood and British films, through the wishful thinking of producers on both sides of the Atlantic.

But Guinness is now definitely set for two starring roles.

In the autumn he goes to Madrid to start filming the part of Emperor Marcus Aurelius in The Fall of the Holy Roman Empire. After that it's Hollywood and the South Seas for the film version of James Mitchener's

"This Company is aware that a successful public utility must have the approval of the community it serves. As we look forward with confidence in the future of British Columbia, we reaffirm our objective to continue to provide the best in telecommunications services to meet the growing needs of the people of this Province."

President

Since the beginning of the year most sectors of British Columbia business have shown continued betterment. The labor scene remains undisturbed by major strikes as the lumber and construction workers sign new long-term contracts. Large shipments of iron ore and concentrates and the general mining activity are well in advance of previous years. Hotels and restaurants are reporting a record volume of business as an unprecedented number of tourists visit the Province. At least 26,000 more British Columbians have jobs now than a year ago. Highlights of our own expansion during the first half of 1962 reflect this steady growth:

- 12,000 new telephones were installed 41% more than in the previous January-June period. Total telephones now exceed 580,000.
- A further 20,000 telephones were converted from manual to automatic operation, involving the installation of 17 new dial offices. More than 94% of all telephones in service are now dial operated.
- Over $16,000,000 was spent on construction to meet the demands for new services and a further $26,000,000 will be required for the balance of the year. Net half yearly income available for ordinary shareholders - represented earnings of $1.49 per average ordinary share.

It is estimated that the population of B.C. will rise by 273,000 during the next five years. As a result, the number of telephones in service will increase by approximately 127,000. To insure that adequate facilities are available to meet this growth, it is expected that the Company will spend $190,000,000 for the construction of new plant and equipment.

amxious to get at some do-it-yourself jobs that have been waiting for you all summer.

If you have plywood cabinets that are getting scuffed around the edges you might try a new wood trim that is almost as easy to apply as Scotch tape. It comes in eight-foot rolls, one inch wide for $1.05. To match your decor you can choose from a variety of woods—birch, fir, sonora, walnut cake or Philipping madoganu riut, oak or Philippine mahogany.

For those with the creative urge, this easy to handle

IN BLOOD?

OSHAWA (CP) - Oshawa and District Labor Council decided Tuesday night to approach Red Cross offi-cials for their opinion on a suggestion that Oshawa motorists be allowed to pay parking fines in blood.

The idea came from Patrick McCloskey of Local-rick McCloskey of Local-222, United Auto Workers Union (CLC) who suggested the move might help buoy sagging reserves in area blood banks.
Council decided to discu

Partial Acceptance
The biochemical approach to solving mental problems is not wholly accepted, nor is it always effective.

It can be applied to some alcoholics, but not generally.

"It is on the eve of winning acceptance now." Calder said.

There is such an animal, but you might not believe it even if you saw him. He is one of those impossible animals, like the pangolin. We see him, but common sense tells us that he cannot be real. But the narwhal is real, though we are not likely to see him because to find him we would have to search in some remote and unfriendly places.

In the Middle Ages, there were many pictures of the unicorn and most people believed this horsey creature to be real, Modern science would need far more proof than a portrait. But even in the Middle Ages they had more proof, or what they thought was more proof, of the unicorn. From time to time a wandering sailor would bring back a straight tapering horn soitable with ridges. bring back a straight tapering overgrown tooth. It is the left horn, spiraled with ridges.

This, surely, was a real horn from a real unicorn. It was slightly left of centre.

Warm-Blooded Mammal

A whale, including the unlikely narwhal, is a mammal.

Unlike a fish, it is a warmblooded, air-breathing animal which gives birth to live babies. As a family, the whales are smart fellows. The narwhal is smart enough to keep a breathing hole open when lice freezes over the water. Also, sailors can hear him. When he comes to the surface for a breath of air, he lets out a long shrill whistle, perhaps to get the stale air out of his lungs. He is a hungry fellow and spends his time cruising for food. He dines on skate and cuttlefish, turbot and hallbut and usually espellows here. A whale, including the un-chance to study the narwhal

CARD OF THANKS

PAINTER—In loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grand-mother, Ethie C. Painter, who passed away suddenly on Sept. 12. BALLANTYNE'S you hard to find.

If all the world were ours to give, We'd give it, yes and more. To see the face of one so dear Come smilling through the doof..

—Your loving husband Fred, sons to daughters and their families.

was you.
Just in your judgment, always right,
Honest and liberal, ever upright:
Loved by your friends and all you knew.
A wonderful mother, that, mother,

FORMOSA U-2 FLIGHTS 'CONTROLLED BY U.S.'

PEKING (Reuters) - A Nationalist Chinese pilot said to have been shot down over China in August last year was quoted in an interview with the official New China news agency today as saying U-2 planes in Formosa were "under the direct command of U.S. personnel."

The pilot, named as Wu Paochin, was described as former flight commander of the 4th Squadron of the Chinese Nationalist Air Force.

The reported interview was the first news of the pilot since the agency briefly reported that his RF-101 reconnaissance plane had been shot down by aircraft of the Peoples Liberation Army while flying over Fuklen province on a "harassing mission."

Rusk was said to have as sured an unusual combined session of the House armed services and foreign affairs committees that this was the point at which the United would have to take some military action.

Sources said Rusk told the lawmakers that the current military buildup in Cuba, aided Russians and other Communist bloc nations, was still defensive in nature. the U.S. was keeping a close watch to make sure it becomes nothing more than that.

PEKING (Reuters) - A Nationalist Chinese pilot said to have been shot down over China in August last year was quoted in an interview with the official New China news agency today as saying U-2 planes in Formosa were "under the direct command of U.S. personnel."

The pilot, named as Wu Paochin, was described as former flight commander of the 4th Squadron of the Chinese Nationalist Air Force.

The reported interview was the first news of the pilot since the agency briefly reported that his RF-101 reconnaissance plane had been shot down by aircraft of the Peoples Liberation Army while flying over Fuklen province on a "harassing mission."
